Bryce Harlow Foundation Names New Officers and Board Members

WASHINGTON, D.C., January 14, 2021 – The Bryce Harlow Foundation, the premier organization in Washington for government advocacy, has appointed new officers and five new board members. At the Foundation’s January 13 board meeting, the following professionals joined the board for three-year terms: Heidi Brock, president and CEO of the American Forest and Paper Association, Karen Harbert, president and CEO of the American Gas Association, and Fred Humphries, corporate vice president of U.S. government affairs for Microsoft.

The Foundation also welcomed new officers. Brett Loper, senior vice president of government affairs at American Express, was named chairman. He replaces Katherine Lugar, president and CEO of the American Beverage Association, whose one-year term as chairman expired. David French, senior vice president of government relations for the National Retail Federation was appointed vice chairman and, Liz Reicherts, vice president of external affairs for General Motors, was named secretary/treasurer.

“The Bryce Harlow Foundation is fortunate to continually attract talented and respected advocates to serve on the board,” said Barbara Faculjak, president of the Foundation. “Our board members are dedicated to the educational mission of the foundation and serve as excellent role models for Bryce Harlow Fellows, the next generation of government advocates.”

About the Bryce Harlow Foundation

The Bryce Harlow Foundation was established in 1981 in honor of the late Bryce Harlow to promote integrity within the lobbying profession and to increase the understanding of its essential role in the development of sound public policy. Bryce Harlow, who served with four U.S. presidents, established the first White House Congressional Liaison Office and served as its director during the Eisenhower and Nixon administrations.
